1969—Striving for Improvement

1969—Striving for improvement brought about many necessary changes to the campus of Emerson High School. These changes made education more beneficial and the year more interesting.

Emerson, Gary's oldest high school, was established in 1908. Through the years, EHS has witnessed many changes, but 1969 has found a blending of tradition with exciting new methods and ideas to meet the needs of the school.

You will notice changes in academics. Technical courses are now being offered from the new Technical Vocational School and there will be coverage of this in the academic section. School life and organizations will remain almost the same with the exception of people. You will notice a change in the people. More students are taking part in organizations and activities. Athletic teams, whether winners or losers, provide the bond known as school spirit.

Emerson High School has been striving for improvement in many areas and 1969 shows evidence of great progress.

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear coll for me!
And may there be na maoning af the bar,
When I put out ta seo,

But such a tide os maving seems osleep,
Taa full far saund and faam,
When thot which drew fram aut the boundless deep
Turns again hame.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be na sadness af farewell,
When I embark;

Far tho' from out our bourne af Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope ta see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crast the bar.

The most exciting happening in my high school days was the Tallenton game during my junior year. Everyone thought we didn't have a chance. But the team came out and played a controlled ball game. We won by about ten points.

In years to come I will remember the enjoyable years I have spent at Emerson and the friends I made. After Emerson, I will encounter the road to the future, which looks tough, but I will use my education to overcome any obstacle.

During my three years at Emerson I had the time of my life. Coming from Pulaski, I was lost at Emerson, but in time I found myself. The best things happened to me when I began participating in Emerson activities.

Pass the Spirit Stick

As the days seemingly grow longer and the studying harder, I felt myself irresistibly drawn to the suggestion of skipping a few classes. Presently I am making up time.

Julius Stuart

The most exciting thing happened to me in my junior year. I was a high jumper in track. In meets before the Regional I had done what I considered a good job, never placing below second. When the Regional came around I competed against the area's best high jumpers. I started well. There were five jumpers left, and I was one of them. A boy and I were tied for fourth; only four can go down State. I beat my opponent by jumping 6' 2". It was the first time I earned a trip down State.

ORGANIZATIONS

We Have . . .

Student Council officers are Carol Scott, president, Gregory Gray, vice-president, and Carolyn Kinsey, secretary.

The Student Council provides cooperation between students and faculty, promotes all school activities, and operates on the will of the majority; providing at the same time a chance for the minority to be heard. These pupils are the backbone of our student body.

World Affairs Forum is one of the best knowledge obtaining organizations in our city. Each high school has six representatives at the Forum assemblies.

Scholarship, leader, character, and service are qualities that every member of the EHS Senior Honor Society possesses. The purpose of this society is to recognize students who excel mainly in scholarship.

Faithful, helpful, and industrious, are the correct ways to describe the office secretaries at Emerson High School. They keep all records straight and all type work done at all times. Bulletins are always accurately typed and ready for the following day. EHS students know where to go when they need information—the office secretaries.

ACADEMICS

English, the Backbone of Education

English—The involved world of the language we speak is both a curse and a blessing to the students at Emerson. Term papers, poetry, grammar, and novels, are included in the complex assignments passed out by the numerous teachers of the English Department. It is not until the student recognizes the style and grace of his manner of speaking and writing that he appreciates the diligent efforts of his teachings and the reasons for his assignments.

Geel It sure is fun working in English IVR. Huh.

I sure hope he doesn't call on me.

History—A look at the Past, Present, and Future

Tons and Tons of Economics

Man's existence is traced back to the cradle of "Cradle of Civilization" between the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers on the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea. World History follows him from the beginning through ancient Egypt, the Golden Age of Greece, and Anglo-Saxon England to the exploration of the New World. United States History continues through the colonization period, the Revolution, Civil War, the Presidents, and American issues and development until the present day.

United States Government is a detailed study of our Federal, state, and local government. Here, too, the fundamentals of voting and political parties are taught. Community Civics centers on the function of municipal government.

Man's financial difficulties such as budgeting, monopolies, and the farm problems are topics of Economics.

World Geography acquaints students with the people of other lands. In this class one learns the living conditions, industries, governments, and geographical location of world neighbors.

Isn't this a blast.

The Role of Science

Science—Your science curriculum at Emerson is designed to give all students an insight into the basic principles upon which it is based. This is done by focusing attention on the methods of scientific investigation leading to the astounding success of modern science as well as providing a sound knowledge of basic principles, theories, and concepts.

It is emphasized that: (1.) Science is universal and the study of it will yield an understanding of the new worlds now within the grasp of man; (2.) the study of science helps to the development of an objective attitude towards man and nature, and develops dispassionate approaches toward problems in a world of dilemma; (3.) the study of science brings new knowledge—facts, figures, principles and laws basic to science; (4.) certain skills and experimentation be encouraged—so the students may discover for himself the wonderful world in which he lives.

The science curriculum at Emerson can be compared to the words of Blaise Pascal, "Nature imitates herself: a grain thrown into good ground brings forth fruit: a principle thrown into a good mind brings forth fruit." It is with this in mind that the development of your science curriculum has become what it is today.

and Math at Emerson

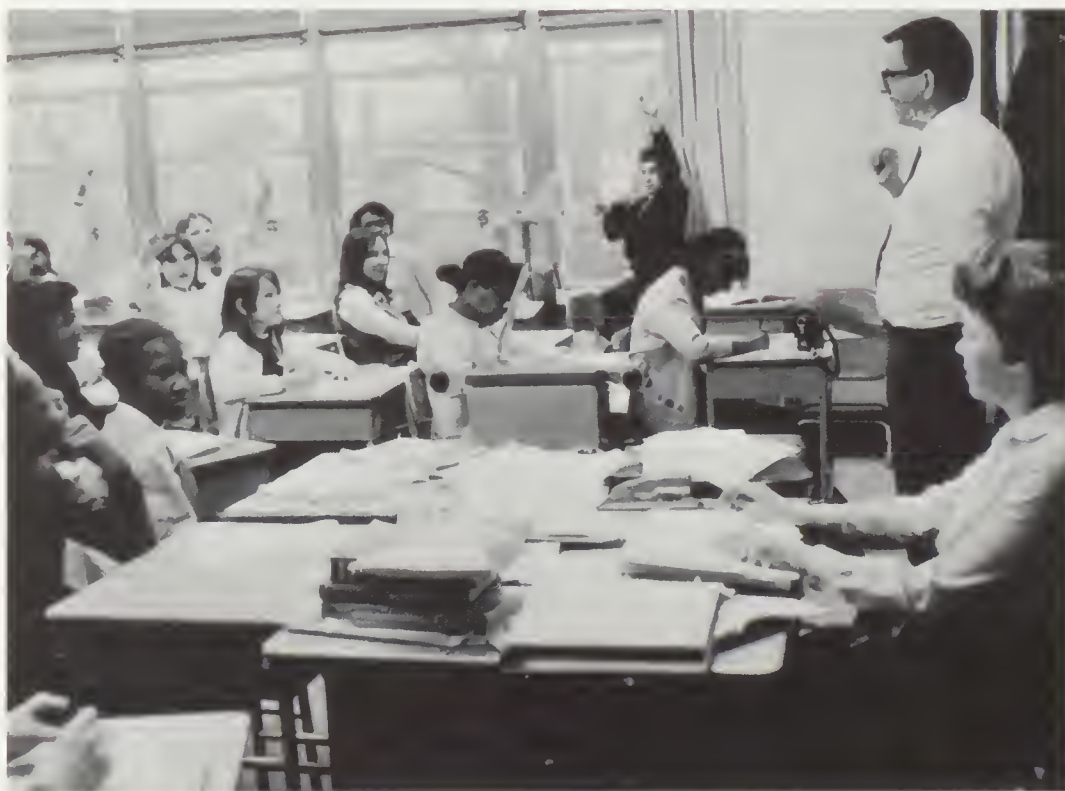

Math—Emerson offers three tracks in math. Level I aims to prepare students for math they need in everyday life. Level II is geared to the college bound and technical students. Level III challenges the students of superior ability. In these courses, more topics are studied, and they are studied in greater depth.

This year a new program was initiated in seventh, eighth and ninth grades. The aim of these programs is to make math more understandable and interesting, thereby strengthening students ability to use math. Emerson is one of the few schools in Gary using this new program in seventh and eight grades. (You can see Mr. Blum, Mr. Corrigan, or Miss Gorney for more details.)

Several students are enrolled in an enrichment course for the mathematically talented at the University of Chicago.

Doesn't that student look kind of old?

What does the square of the hypotenuse times $\frac{1}{2}$ the diameter plus the circumference equal to,—dumb dumb?

The Engrossing Study of Foreign Customs

Bonjour! Soludes! Solvete! Each student strains diligently to remember the translation drills. With the knowledge of a second language, one can accomplish many tasks for the government as well as in teaching and journalism. Spanish, French, and Latin; the three languages offered at Emerson are taught at 5 different levels.

Along with the Latin I course, ancient history is taught by Mr. Deleurere. Miss McGehee and Miss Bonmark very hard teaching Spanish students, while Mrs. Waddington and Mr. Deleurere introduces French to many others. Mr. Deleurere also takes full responsibility for all Latin classes. Determined to do their best, Emerson students work hard to master the skills of accent, intonation, and speed.

Come on over to our Spanish fiesta

This can be very interesting.

Do—Re—Mi. . . .

Sing a simple song.

The downbeat is given in five music classes at Emerson. Vocally, there are Acappella and Glee Clubs; instrumentally, Band and Orchestra; intellectually, Theory and Harmony. The results of our music courses are extremely pleasant to the ear. The work is heard at various occasions throughout the year.

In the vocal department Glee Club and Acappella can be heard at Christmas, carolling in the halls on the last day before Christmas vacation, or at the Spring Concert.

The Band plays at football games. It has been called upon, too, by the city to play at certain civic affairs. Orchestra members play during intermission of school plays. Orchestra as well as the Band gives annual concerts.

Theory and Harmony is required for students wishing to earn a major in music. In this class students are tutored on the technique of writing music and the study of chords.

A Capella at its best.

Mind and Body Work Hand in Hand in Physical Education

I'll just wait till he gets the ball, then . . .

They're getting ready for the test . . .

With the ever increasing amount of leisure time, Americans must prepare themselves for recreational activities. Physical education not only strives to develop the body physically, socially, and emotionally, but also prepare the individual for leading a happier and healthier life. Through the use of games such as football, soccer, volleyball, tennis, and other activities as wrestling, gymnastics and tumbling, the physical education teachers at Emerson High School do a very good job of fulfilling the objectives.

You Can Succeed in Business if You Try

In the Commercial Education classes, which includes typing, shorthand, business law, and clerical practice, students are trained and prepared for the fundamentals of an office aid, that can come in very handy after school days are left behind.

Students learn commercial skills.

The School City of Gary has offered many opportunities for youths and adults at the Gary area Technical-Vocational School in 1968-69. Next school year the program will be expanded further and in the future it will be evaluated and altered to keep abreast of technological change.

The school offers an approach to education which may be new to many Gary people. We want you to understand what is being done and to work with us in the further development of this important part of Gary's educational system.

TV is a center for the development of skills and knowledge directed toward successful technical and vocational skills or careers. It serves individuals and works with management, labor, and professional people in identifying and meeting training needs in the community.

Would you believe the new Technical School?

Art—A Vital Part of Education at E.H.S.

Man against man

The art and photography program at Emerson is structured to allow for the growth and development of skills, techniques and knowledge necessary to strengthen the quality and the amount of creative output of the students. Art experiences as a sequential area of learning must be continuous from the sixth grade into the junior high school, and progressively more challenging and involved in the transition from the junior high school into the high school.

Within the framework of the functions at Emerson, art becomes a vital part of the education of all students.

You see, it happened like this . . .

$\frac{1}{2}$ Cup + 1 Yard = Future Homemaker

In cooking classes our ladies are taught the importance of a basic diet and the various food values. Their culinary skill often begins from scratch, but they usually end the course with a fair ability to make many basic dishes. The kitchen is equipped with up-to-date appliances for the best results.

In Clothing I and II and advanced Clothing the girls learn the basic steps of sewing. These include cutting out patterns, using the machines, hemming and altering, and the fine art of making button holes.

Cooking and sewing is fun, but when it comes to reports . . .

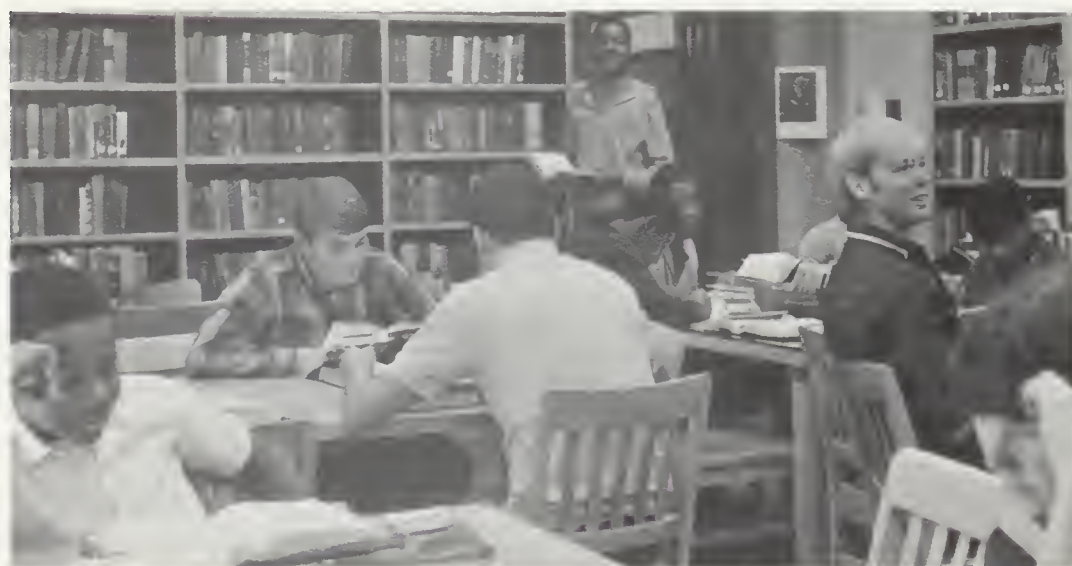

Isn't this cozy?

If the Books Are There, Use Them

Librorions ore never sotisfied! We still soy we do not hove enough spoce for oll the services we would like to render the foculty ond students. But we do hove more spoce in the workroom, more shelf spoce for books, more more choirs for students. And with them, we push on.

Dog-gone it, everytime I come here somebody's got thot book, "Sex And The Single Girl."

I'll never tell, but I got the book.

Instructors Strives for Perfection

Here comes the brain.

Special Education Majors.

Special Education instructors work very diligently at Emerson. They have one of the most challenging tasks in the educational system today. Since they are teaching below average students, they must be clever, persistent, determined and efficient in guiding each student to his greatest potential. Special Education courses offered at Emerson are, Math, English, and Reading.

Tornado Tallies

"Honest, Jimmy, The Restroom is locked until Holftime."

"The roof fell in, the ship sonk, the wor was lost, but then the trouble started." Emerson's Golden Tornodoes must hove felt thot woy during the 1968 season which sow them win only one of nine gomes. The once proud trodition of chompionship football ot Emerson was tornished somewhat by lock of porticipation, numerous injuries, ond the simple foct thot Emerson is o smoll school in comporison with most of the competition thot we now face.

Not everything wos on the bleok side, however, Seniors, Dorrell Bodie ond Lee Lemon, were chosen to first ond second teams, respectively, for All-Conference honors. An upset win over Froebel highlighted the season. Even more important, though, is the prospect of ten returning lettermen for next year's team which include some of the highest regorded undercrossmen in the City. Seniors lost from this year's team include: Rodney Poce, Jimmy Brooks, Dove Echols, Alfredo Gorzo, Terry Kelly, Dorrell Bodie, Elijah Boity, Roy Curtis, Aldeon Miles, Roy Lee, Charles Jones, ond Charlie Cornett, Mgr.

"Go out there ond get vicious." "What's his number, Cooch?"

"Aw, come on back fellas, they just got big pods on."

The season was not a complete loss. A new school scoring record was set when the Norsemen defeated Gory Andreon 92 to 73. Broken bones, sprains, and pulled ligaments hurt the team's performance.

The Norsemen started off well, winning two out of their first three games. However, they dropped the next three with a total of 169 pts. to the opponents' 186 pts. Highly ranked Gory Tolleston swamped our team by a score of 108 to 50 in the Annual Holiday

Tourney. The next 11 games must have caught Lody Luck out to lunch or the opponents must have been slipping us greased balls.

Gory Andreon bowed before our cagers in our last regular season game. Sectionol time found us facing last year's Stote Champion, Gory Roosevelt. Victory's sweet taste passed again as Emerson lost 73-52 and ended its '69 basketball season.

Reserves Have .500 Season

Headed by Coach Wally Fitch, the reserves battled to a 9-9 win-loss record. Following in the varsity's footsteps, they won 2 of their first 3 games. Next came Hammond Tech; they outscored the Norsemen by 23 pts. But the Norsemen bounced back to defeat Mann, Fraebel, and Wollace. Success was short-lived when the team encountered E.C. Roosevelt. One out of the next 5 games brought success; the lone victory was a close contest with Gory-Wirt—54-50. A total of 250 pts. were accumulated in the remaining games against opponents' 211 pts.

Acknowledgement

The Emersonian staff for 1969 would like to acknowledge the persons, clubs and organizations, teachers and sponsors who made the publication of this book possible. Without you, the Emersonian '69 would have never been able to survive. Bab Lewis of Sterling-Conors Studios deserves a special thanks for his help in taking and developing many of our pictures and Al Schlegelmilch of Herff Jones who gave us a lot of his time, patience, and ideas for our yearbook. But most of all, we'd like to ocknowledge everyone at Emerson who bought a yearbook and stood behind us all the way. You are truly—Striving for Improvement.
